SERIES INFORMATION

The Survey of - Demographic and Social Aspects - 1986/87 was the fourth in the series of surveys conducted by the Department of Census and Statistics under the National Household Survey Capability Programme(NHCSP) of the United Nations.

ABSTRACT

The survey provides comprehensive information on demographic characteristics, Migration, Health, Housing and Access to Basic Amenities and Cultural Aspects. Demographic information has been collected to cross classify variables of other section viz migration, health etc; by demographic characteristics of the population.

Information on internal migration was one of the subjects which has been covered in this survey. In addition to fertility and mortality, the third factor affecting population change in a given area is migration. The movement of population from one area to another affects its age, sex composition and geographical distribution. This movement of population within the national boundaries of a country is called the internal migration and the movement across the national boundaries is called the international migration. This survey provide information on long term, medium term as well as short term migration.

Information on health status of its population and utilization of health services is a basic requirement for planning and evaluation of health services in the country and for monitoring the health status of the population. This survey gathered information on health such as age, sex, distribution of these patients, their household income, employment, household size and composition, their housing conditions, sources of water for drinking, toilet facilities available for them etc. which generally cannot be obtained through service statistics. Information on Housing and Access to Basic Amenities were also collected in this survey. Detailed information on housing, which are very essential for planning and policy formulation in this area were collected through this survey. Information on Cultural and Recreational activities were also collected at this survey such as usage of cinemas, theatres and libraries, participation in cultural events etc.
