Sampling

SAMPLING PROCEDURE

A multi-stage stratified random sample design was used in this survey. Sectors of the District are the domains for stratification. The Master sample frame prepared for the Demographic Survey 1994 was used in this survey. There were about 4000 Primary Sampling Units (PSUs) in the frame. From this frame, a sample of 1061 PSU's were drawn for Income and Expenditure Survey 1995/96. From each sampled PSU, 20 numbers of housing units (final sampling units) were drawn to reach a sample of 21,220 housing units. Therefore the weighting factors calculated for Income and Expenditure Survey 1995/96 were based on the corresponding factors of the Demographic Survey 1994.

Sample allocation

The District and Sector allocation of the number of housing units to be surveyed was done proportionate to the square root of the total number of housing units in the District and Sector. However selected areas under the urban sector of the Colombo District and the Gampaha District were over-sampled to obtain a better representative sample and to obtain weighting factors for computation of Consumer Price Indices.

DATA COLLECTION NOTES

Field data Collection

Data collection in the field was done by the statistical officers attached to the Divisional Secretariats under each District. The allocated number of blocks for the District that is to be surveyed in the month was equally distributed among the available weeks of the month. A fresh listing of total housing units belonging to the block was done one month before the survey and selection of the SSU's were made from this updated list.

The data collection was done in three visits made to each household by the data collectors. On Monday, the demographic and income related data were collected into the survey schedule and the members of the households were educated to report the consumption of different items in the week. A separate sheet was provided to record the consumption during the rest of the week by the members of the households. A second visit was made in the mid-week to supervise the households recording consumption. The report was collected back after making the necessary corrections in the third visit made on the following Sunday.
